

ORIOL FONTCUBERTA

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

Experience in developing projects across various fields, such as market analytics and a search engine for companies, which I have used as part of my learning process (learning through real application).

Database work on an international project (lived in Dublin). There, I enhanced my communication skills across international teams.

Teamwork has been an integral part of my learning and professional journey from the beginning.

I consistently maintain a holistic view of projects, going beyond the technological aspects.
